

In 2013, HML's partner institutions were also successful in securing external funding for use in fulfilling collaborative research objectives for the laboratory. When NOAA scientists assigned to HML are excluded from calculations, our other researchers with primary appointments to the laboratory collectively received approximately $3.8 million in combined grants and awards. A breakout of grants and awards by partner is provided below.

HML's Grants/Awards 2013

